

DDE Newsletter No. 212

Climate Crisis – Climate Justice

World's biggest solar farm goes online, big enough to power a country. 5GW facility is roughly the same area as New York City. Read more ...

World has been breaching key 1.5C threshold for the last year, scientists warn. "The battle to limit temperature rise to 1.5 degrees will be won or lost in the 2020s," warns UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres. Read more ...

'An intergenerational crime against humanity': what will it take for political leaders to start taking climate change seriously? Read more ...

OpenAI seeks 'vast quantities' of nuclear fusion energy to power superhuman AI. ChatGPT creator seeks 'holy grail of clean energy' to build artificial intelligence. Read more ...

Other News

'A sanctuary': how neglected Native American communities are organizing their own food hubs. The hubs seek to produce, store and distribute food to the one-quarter of Native Americans experiencing food insecurity. Read more ...

Mapping the results of the India election 2024. The Bharatiya Janata Party has fallen short of a majority on its own, but has the numbers with its National Democratic Alliance to form the next Indian government. Read more ...

'Standing Together' against far-right Israeli hate in Jerusalem. A group of Jewish Israelis and Palestinians are taking on settlers and the orthodoxy of Israel's far-right. Read more ...

Leaders praise 'historic' victory as Sheinbaum triumphs in Mexican election. Sheinbaum's resounding win offers a bright spot for the Latin American left amid a string of setbacks. Read more ...

5 Fast Facts about Spent Nuclear Fuel. Read more ...

Project to restore ancient Arab irrigation system underway in Spain's Sierra Nevada. Read more ...

Topics discussed at Thursday's World at Lunch

At-Home IV Drips Are the Latest Luxury Building Amenity. High-end condos and rentals now offer the medically dubious therapy as a regular wellness practice, not just a vacation splurge. Read more ...

My family home of 17 years is being sold behind my back – I learned about my 'zombie mortgage' from a knock at the door. Read more ...

'I'm bringing his music back to life': the singer whose grandfather was silenced by the Holocaust. Read more ...

The Piano Player of Budapest: A True Story of Holocaust Survival, Music and Hope by Roxanne de Bastion. Details ...

Countess Wear ... mark 80th Anniversary of D-Day. Read more ...

Pollster John Curtice's six types of voter, from Middle Britons to Urban Progressives – which are you? Professor of politics says the electorate is 'not just divided between left and right, but also between liberals and authoritarians' Read more ...

Local News ...

St Petrock's has created a simple survey to help raise awareness of the issues faced by people without a home in Exeter. Details ...

Sacred headdress handed over to Siksika Nation. Read more ...

Research backs beavers in fight against flooding and droughts. Read more ...

'Lost' Elizabethan manor house rediscovered in Devon. Read more ...

Things to do ...

Friday June 7th to Sunday June 16th Foreign Bodies is a multi-site contemporary art project, reflecting upon the notion of the 'foreign' in relation to prevailing attitudes in the UK. Details ...

Friday 14th June 12pm to 1:30pm Resisting Extractivism: The struggle for justice and reparations for African women organised by the Climate Reparations Network UK. Details ...

From Tuesday June 25th We Are the Ocean exhibition to highlight the need to protect our ocean. Details ...

Campaign Updates:

350.org: Anti-oil pipeline activist in Uganda detained, pressure group says. Read more ...

Greenpeace: Update from the Bermuda Triangle, in the Sargasso Sea Watch ...

Practical Action: Innovative Practices Boost Sudan's food Security. Read more ...